WILL VALIDATE THE BOND ISSUE

Aldermen to Have Bill Prepared.

General Assembly Will Be Asked To Pass Bill Curing Defect in Issue Voted Three Years Ago—All in Favor of Better Schools—Auditorium Company To Be Allowed To Run Spur Track Into Auditorium Building.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Aldermen it was unanimously voted to have a bill, curing the defect which held up the sale of the $30,000 bond issue voted for school purposes three years ago, presented to the legislature with a request that it be passed at this session of the Legislature. The bill will be prepared by the city attorney and carried before the Legislature at once in order that it may be passed without a possible hitch this time.

Mr. C. H. Ireland, of the committee appointed by the Merchants' Association Thursday night, appeared and stated that something would have to be done in order to accommodate the children that would be sure to apply next fall for entrance to the schools. Even with the new building on Spring street and the Asheboro Street addition the facilities would be inadequate and the same makeshifts that are used at present will have to continue in use.

When asked how the money would be used if secured Mr. Ireland said that he had not considered that, but supposed that a new building would be erected on West Lee street, on the property purchased last year, and another building erected in the northern section of the city. If any funds remained an addition might be put at the Spring street school, this building having been planned with that aim in view.

Mr. Ireland asked the members of the board to go to some of the school rooms and note the crowded condition and then they would be able to see that even the increased facilities now being provided for would be inadequate to meet the demand for room that would be made next fall, unless the present buildings were again used or new buildings provided.

Mr. J. W. Jones, the wholesale grocer, appeared before the board to protest against being charged full price for the paving put down in front of his store on South Elm street, contending that he was damaged because the workmen had the sidewalk torn up so long. This objection was overruled by the board and no exception was taken. Mr. Jones also protested against carriage drivers standing their carriages in front of his place of business, preventing wagons from being driven up in front of his door. The dayman filed the Depot side of his store, Mr. Jones explained. An ordinance specifying where carriages and drays may stand was drawn up, but it was decided to go over the ground in person and designate certain space for the carriages and other space for drays before passing the ordinance.

The report of the committee appointed to investigate the advisability of allowing the Auditorium company to erect a spur track across Hughes alley and Sycamore street into the Auditorium building, the track to cross the rear end of the city's property, was favorable and the request was granted, provided the city is put to no expense in running the track across its property. The company asked the city to pay for the track across its property.

The quarterly report of the Water & Light Commission was read and ordered spread on the minutes. The report showed that the income from water rents for the quarter was $8,743.13 and the operating expenses $8,719.63. The balance was something over $3,000, about half of which was spent in purchasing supplies for future use. The report of the cemetery trustees was received and recorded.

The city hall committee requested that an addition be made to the calaboose, in order that when there are four classes of prisoners there will be some provision for handling them without putting one class into the junk room, outside the cell room. It was decided to do this work at once.

Order Eastern Star. An enthusiastic meeting of the Order of Eastern Star was held last night, a social session being the closing feature of the evening.

PHILLIP MILLS IS ELECTROCUTED

Transylvania Wife Murderer Dies in Electric Chair—New Hotel For Raleigh—New Charters.

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—At 10:30 this morning Phillip Mills, the colored wife murderer, of Transylvania county, died in the electric chair in the state prison. He made no statement.

He and his wife quarreled about the possession of their children. She ran with the baby in her arms. He struck her over the head with a gun, killing her and causing fatal injuries to the child.

Charters were issued today for the Mt. Mitchell Railroad Co., of Woodlawn, McDowell county. The purpose is to construct and operate ten miles of railroad from Servier station, of the Carolina Clinchfield and Ohio railroad, to a point on Turkey Cove creek, also in McDowell. The capital is $100,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by T. T. Adams, of Richmond and others; the Blowing Rock Line (inc.) capital $5,000, by L. P. Henkel and others; the Asheville Baseball Club, capital $15,000, by A. S. Bernard and others; the Aycock Drug Co., of Lenoir, capital $5,000.

A deal is consummated between R. H. Ricks, of Rocky Mount, Jones & Bailey, of Raleigh, and others whereby a fine white pressed brick and marble hotel five stories high is to be erected at the corner of Martin and Salisbury streets to be managed by T. L. Bland, now of the New Ricks at Rocky Mount. It will have nearly one hundred rooms and modern equipment throughout.

ROOT AGAINST IT

New York Senator Doesn't Believe in Popular Election of Senators.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Opposing all suggestion looking to a change in the manner of electing United States senators, Mr. Root, of New York, today addressed the Senate on the resolution providing for election by direct vote of the people. Mr. Root, at the outset, took positive position against both propositions contained in the resolution. He would not have Senators elected by direct vote, nor, if they were to be so elected, would he have the control of such elections transferred from Congress to the various State Legislatures. For Congress to abandon jurisdiction over Senatorial elections would be equivalent, he said, to the government's surrendering its power to maintain itself.

Mr. Root found in the Mann proposition, that of changing the method of electing Senators, an effort to evade responsibility in the matter of government. Declaring that the principal reason given for the change to be corruption of State Legislatures in the interest of Senatorial candidates, he said that a more fundamental change should be made than is proposed. He would go to the root of the trouble by so purifying politics as to obtain better material in the Legislatures.

If the people would look properly to the selection of legislative candidates he was sure there would be comparatively little complaint concerning the election of Senators by legislative action and he was sure that in that event agitation for direct election would gradually disappear.

State Primary Law.

Mr. E. J. Justice, who returned last night from Raleigh, stated that he felt quite sure that the General Assembly would enact a statewide primary law, requiring that all parties in the state nominate their candidates on the same day. The first Tuesday in September is being mentioned as the date on which the primary shall be held. One bill has been introduced, but it is believed that a second bill, having a broader application will be substituted. Mr. Justice stated that nearly every member of the Legislature was in favor of a state primary.

The Y. M. C. A. Building.

The contractors have begun work on the Y. M. C. A. building and if the good weather continues will soon begin laying brick. The basement is to be largely of cement, especially the swimming pool and a portion of the floor. As soon as the walls get above ground the building will go up more rapidly.

MASS MEETING FOR GOOD ROADS

Will be Held on Next Saturday.

Call For Meeting Issued by Good Roads Club and County Commissioners—Mr. W. L. Spoon To Make Address—Practical Demonstration of Split Log Dragging To Be Given on Streets of Greensboro.

On Saturday, Feb. 18, a mass meeting of the people of Guilford county interested in good roads will be held in the opera house, the meeting to begin at 10 o'clock. Mr. W. L. Spoon, highway engineer of North Carolina, will make an address and give a practical demonstration of the split log drag on the streets of Greensboro. The following calls for the meeting were issued yesterday:

To the People of Guilford County: We believe that Guilford is the best county in the State; we believe that much of Guilford's prosperity is due to its good roads; we believe that this work of improving our county highways should be carried forward until every road in the county can be traveled with ease and comfort in every season and every kind of weather; we believe that the making of a complete system of roads means not only the macadamizing of the main thoroughfares but the improving of the other roads as well.

You are therefore most urgently requested to attend a mass meeting of the people of the county to be held in the opera house in Greensboro, on Saturday, February 18, at 10 o'clock. At this meeting an address upon the subject of improving and caring for roads will be made by Mr. W. L. Spoon, North Carolina State Highway Engineer and a recognized authority on the subject, followed by a practical demonstration by Mr. Spoon of the use of the split log drag (which Mr. Spoon considers the best method of keeping roads in good condition) on some street conveniently located.

At this meeting other short talks will be made and a movement started looking to the formation of a local good roads association in every township in the county.

Be sure to come and ask your neighbors and friends to do the same, as this is a matter in which we must all pull together for the best results.

GUILFORD COUNTY GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION.

J. Van Lindley, President.

Samuel L. Trogon, Secretary. We, the Board of County Commissioners of Guilford county, hereby join with the Guilford County Good Roads Association in calling a mass meeting of the citizens of the county to be held at 10 o'clock on Saturday, February 18, 1911, for the purposes stated in the call of the Good Roads Association.

We regard the question of the improvement of the public roads as of the highest importance to all of the people of the county, and most earnestly request all the people who possibly can do so to attend this meeting as we believe the address by Mr. Spoon and the practical demonstration of road improvement will be of great value in the working of our roads. Especially do we request all road supervisors, overseers and others in charge of road making to attend this meeting.

Guilford county is now among the leading counties of the entire South in the matter of good roads and we should all pull together to still further carry on this good work.

Negro Woman Dies Suddenly.

Jane Martin, an old colored woman, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at her home on East Gaston street, near Gilmer. She had gone into an outhouse and was later found dead by her daughter. Coroner Wood was summoned, but it was evident that she had died a natural death. It is believed that death was due to heart failure. The woman was seventy or eighty years of age.

NEAR BEER BILL A SPECIAL ORDER

Will Come up In Senate Tuesday.

Kent Bill Prohibiting Sale of Near Beer and Certain Alcoholic Medicines—The Piedmont County Bill Buried Deeper by Senate—More Petitions Against Near Beer—Additional Appropriation To Public School Fund Wanted.

Raleigh, Feb. 10.—In the Senate this morning the committee on propositions and grievances reported favorably the Kent House bill prohibiting the sale of near-beer with an amendment defining more clearly what preparations druggists may sell. After discussion the bill was set for special order next Tuesday at 12 o'clock to give Senator Bassett time to prepare an amendment giving the right to sell cider. Senators Green and Barham said they were opposed to the bill but wanted it disposed of as early as possible.

The bills prohibiting coupons in cigarette and tobacco packages, relative to the appointment of guardians and taxing dogs in Wayne county were referred.

The Senate.

President Newland convened the Senate at 11 o'clock and Rev. McC. White, of the First Presbyterian church, offered prayer.

Bills Ratified.

Amend the squirrel law of Guilford county.

For relief of Appalachian Training school.

Authorize trustees of Lexington township, Davidson county, to build sand clay roads.

Petitions Presented.

Petitions against near-beer were presented by Senators Lemmon, of Union; Hawkins, of Warren; Hartsell, of Cabarrus; Graham, of Orange; Williams, of Camden; Martin, of Washington; Bennett, of Stanley.

New Bills.

Pharr, of Mecklenburg: Relative to building and loan associations.

Boyd, of Rowan: Provide medical inspection of school children in North Carolina in towns having a population of 4,000 or over.

Hobgood, of Guilford, (by request): Prevent prostitution of women and girls and abolish bawdy houses.

Armstrong, of Montgomery: Encourage the manufacture of wool alcohol.

Gardner, of Cleveland: Relative to the militia of the state, giving medals after fifteen years' service and exempting from civil or criminal liability military men acting under orders.

Senator Hobgood, of Guilford, moved to table the bill creating Piedmont county out of Guilford, Davidson and Randolph, his motion prevailing unanimously. A little later he moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill was tabled and then moved to lay that motion to reconsider on the table. This course was pursued, thus burying the Piedmont county bill completely at least for this session.

The committee on salaries and fees reported a substitute for the bill increasing the salaries of the judges and Senator Hobgood moved to make it a special order for next Tuesday at noon. He withdrew the motion when Senator Barnes objected on the ground that another bill is pending increasing the number of judges from sixteen to twenty. There was an extended debate on the recall feature of the bill conferring civil jurisdiction on the recorder's court of New Hanover county by placing the recorder on the recall and by increasing the pay of the officers of said court. Senator Bassett objected to the recall as a matter of principle and thought it unwise to pass such a law. Senator Bellamy said the lawyers and other interested in New Hanover county were agreed on the bill and urged its passage. It passed second reading by a vote of 31 to 8.

House.

Speaker Dowd convened the House at 10 o'clock. Prayer by President R. T. Vann, of Meredith College.

Among favorable reports by committees were: Establish farm life schools in Wayne county; amend the charter of Winston-Salem Southbound Railroad Co.; provide for redemption of state bonds falling due January, 1913, and for present deficit $350,000 in state treasury; limiting liability to assured by fidelity and insurance companies; amend the law establishing a card index system in the office of the secretary of state; amend law so as to permit free transportation of widows of deceased employees and those seeking employment with railroads; increase the expense allowed for Superior court judges from $250, to $1,000. The bill to establish a state highway commission came from the highway committee with unfavorable report.

New Bills.

Sikes: Fix salaries of Supreme court justices at $4,500.

Spainhour: Appropriate $400,000 in addition to the present appropriation to public schools.

Dillard, of Cherokee: Secure the more accurate listing of incomes in excess of $1,000.

Smith of Greene: For special tax levy in Greene county.

Privatt: Amend the law relative to militia. Assist farmers in co-operative field experiments.

Kent: Prevent carrying revolvers and their sale except to officers of the law.

McNeill: Authorize counties to issue bonds for road construction.

Passed Final Reading.

Resolution requesting members of Congress from this state to support the parcels post bill.

Enlarge powers of county commissioners as to granting rights to construct bridges over streams entirely in their own counties.

Prevent negroes and others from wearing Elks pins.

Battle Town Charter Bill.

The Battle bill approved by the North Carolina League of Municipal officers empowering any town to amend its charter or adopt a new charter including commission or other form of government came up on second reading and on the statement of Mr. Battle that it involved the right of the towns to issue bonds and levy taxes it should take one roll call a day. It passed second reading with five voters in opposition the latter being Alfred of Johnston; Roberts, of Buncombe; Rodwell, Cornwell and Spainhour. The bill returned to the calendar for final reading another day.

Uniform Bill of Lading.

The bill making uniform the law of bills of lading—the Connor bill with committee amendments—came up and precipitated long argument in the midst of which the House took recess to 8 o'clock for final consideration. Mr. Connor, its sponsor, explained that the committee had heard at length the bankers, the railroad men and the dealers for and against that bill and that in the end all objection was withdrawn. He explained the bill at great length, that the principal change is making the railroad company responsible for the acts of its agents in making out bills of lading that are to be used as negotiable instruments. Doughton offered an amendment to allow extra freight where such bills were required. Mr. Horne advocated the bill. Ross, of Harnett, and Fay, of Macon, discussed the bill before recess was taken.

DIES MONTHS AFTER FALL

Three Operations Fail to Save George Lee Peabody.

Baltimore, Feb. 10.—George Lee Peabody, a member of a prominent Boston family, died at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, following a series of three operations performed by Dr. Harvey Cushing, of this city. Last spring Peabody, who was 42 years of age, fell from his horse while hunting, a foreign growth within the skull resulting. Dr. Cushing, having been called to Boston to treat him, on January 11 brought him to this city in a special car. Shortly thereafter the first operation was performed at the hospital, and it was pronounced successful. Within a few days a second operation was performed, and a third followed a week ago.

Miss Edythe Deacon, whose engagement to Peabody had been announced, recently has been staying with friends in Washington and has come to this city almost daily to visit her fiancé at the hospital.

BLOCKADER IN TOILS OF LAW

Jim Suits Arrested Yesterday Morning.

Officers Found Him Hidden Under Pile of Quilts At the Home of His Mother—Has Been Eluding Officers For Several Years—Destroyed Blockade Outfit Near Suits' Home—Preliminary Hearing Tuesday Morning.

Deputy Sheriffs George Crutchfield, W. J. Weatherly and H. S. Andrews yesterday morning arrested Jim Suits, a noted blockader, who has been wanted by state and federal officers for several years.

The officers arrested Suits at his mother's house near Mt. Hope church in Greene township yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. He was lying on the floor under a pile of quilts. His overcoat was wet indicating to the officers that he was out at his still during the night.

The officers got the fixtures of a blockade still near Suits' home. They did not get the still itself as it is a practise with blockaders to remove the still when they leave. At the still were found several hundred gallons of beer, two gallons of whiskey and some "singlings," this being destroyed.

The still was located on what is known as the Al Neese place, near the Clay township line.

Suits bears the reputation of being a persistent blockader, but so slippery that the officers have always hitherto, at least for the last several years, found it impossible to capture him. He is a very swift runner and it is said that he can run backward as fast as some men can run forward.

Last year in Superior court Sam Ingle was tried and convicted for allowing a still to be run on his land. It is said that it was Suits who was doing the blockading and he was thus the chief offender, but it was Ingle who got caught while Suits dodged the officers as usual.

Suits will be given his preliminary hearing Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock before Justice of the Peace D. H. Collins.

COMB CHINATOWN FOR DOPE

Big Raid of Treasury Agents Almost Barten of Result.

New York, Feb. 10.—Nearly 50 special agents of the Treasury Department invaded Chinatown today on a search for smuggled opium. They began their attack from the strategic position of the backyards, and spread through the strange ramshackle structures, peering into all suspicious places, where they thought the smuggled drug might be concealed, frightening the chattering Chinamen nearly out of their wits.

At first, they had scurried like frightened rabbits to cover, but as house after house and supposed den after den were ransacked without producing any treasure trove in the way of opium, they waxed bolder and watched the proceedings with interest and even derision. "Lobbygows" and tong members lounged up and down the streets, their hands characteristically thrust into opposite sleeves or hidden under their loose black, quilted jackets, in a way that made the raiders watch them narrowly, with a thought of hidden pistols; but they showed no sign of hostility to the invaders.

The searchers were especially active in prying into the dark corners of the houses at Nos. 11, 26, 28, 30 and 34 Pell street, and No. 11 Mott street, but they found only two or three cans of opium, and these were duly stamped in accordance with law. They did take two prisoners early in the raid, a Chinaman and a white man, but the process of going through Chinatown with a fine-toothed comb was not nearly so productive as had been hoped.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to act on the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Greensboro residents demand further proof than that contained in the following testimonial?

W. H. Newson, Lakeside St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I noticed that my kidneys were disordered about a year ago. The kidney secretions became unnatural, then my back began to bother me, making it hard for me to attend to my work. I used many remedies, but without success, until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. The results both surprised and delighted me. My system was soon rid of kidney complaint and there has never been a return attack."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

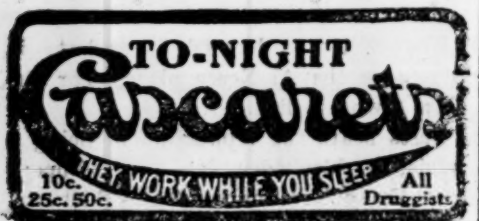

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY

Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the head is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Newbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. GOULD WEDDING CAKE.

Three Nations Contribute to Contents and Construction of This Unique Confection.

New York American.
Three countries contributed to the making of the Gould-Decies wedding cake, and the story of this interesting international alliance, which takes place this afternoon, has been cleverly told in allegorical form.

The cake has been built in three stories, the lowest one being the largest, the second one somewhat smaller and the third still smaller. The two upper stories are supported by Parian marble columns, brought over from Scotland. They are perfect replicas of those that might support a castle.

Surrounding the first story are Cupid standard or torch bearers, each carrying a tiny electric bulb, for the cake will be lighted up by electricity. In front and somewhat ahead of the others stands a herald, announcing with brass trumpet the nuptials. On a candied cushion rests the Gould-Decies cipher and the bridegroom's crest. In front of this two tiny bisque slippers, tied with orange blossoms and filled with rice, carry out the traditional "old shoe and shower of rice" idea. Just to the side is a marble ladder, on which a smiling Cupid is climbing to ring the bells and proclaim his victory. Above the little electric lights are bisque birds, imported from Germany, each carrying a bunch of orange blossoms in its beak.

From the second story another Cupid looks down and also carries in his hand a bunch of orange blossoms and a miniature wedding ring. Inside Venus is resting on a double shell, made of Dresden and bisque, and Cupid is whispering to her.
Topping it all sits Cupid's orchestra, which, by the way, is one of the most novel affairs imaginable. Each one is playing some brass instrument. In fact, Cupids and heralds are everywhere, the former whispering their oft-told tales and the latter with dignified bearing proclaiming the event.

Venus in her shell rests on a carpet of sea-green leaves, representing the sea of life which the young people are to travel together. White rosebuds and orange blossoms are placed wherever possible. Over it all is an illusion veil of ice.
Mrs. H. C. Brown, of West Sixty-eighth street, who has spent sleepless nights and worrisome days designing this rare piece of confectionery, declares that the result was worth the effort.

The Ruud's capacity is measured by the flow per minute, not limited by an iron reservoir. You get hot water by merely turning the faucet—this is absolutely all you have to do. Water is heated instantaneously as it flows through the Ruud to you.

The Ruud Heats only the Exact Quantity of Water You are Using.

Do you want a teacupful?—The Ruud burns just enough gas to fill it with hot water—and then extinguishes the gas in its own burners and lies idle till you want hot water again. An economical, "self-operating" device.—Its scientific construction will interest you—come in and see it.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

Private Brainard's Ruse.

By DOROTHY R. MURRAY

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Tom Brainard was always full of Old Nick. He was at the bottom of all the mischief done at school, and when he was at college got into so many scrapes that at the end of his sophomore year the president informed him he needn't come back the next term.

Tom's father put him into a business concern, but the boy soon proved that he was as unfit for business as for study. Sitting on a high stool all day adding columns of figures was not to Tom's taste. He soon got discharged for inattention to his work, and then his father was at his wits' end to know what to do with him. Tom said he'd like to be a soldier, so his father went to Washington to try to get him a commission, but was told there that if his son wanted a commission he had better enlist and work his way up from the ranks.

Tom enlisted and, though he took to soldiering better than anything else, was constantly transgressing the army regulations and consequently getting himself into trouble. He enlisted in the cavalry and was sent out with his regiment to a two company post in the west. The only people to fight were Indians, and at the time of Tom's arrival they were peaceful.

Fort B., where Tom's company was stationed, was near a hamlet that has since become a large town. The fort was intended as a point of observation for a tribe of Indians whose reservation was but a few miles away. Tom served a year at the fort, one-third of which was spent in the guard-house. He was known by the officers to be a gentleman and his offenses were not serious; indeed, he was rather an annoyance than otherwise. So finally his captain told him that if he would leave the army he would guarantee his discharge. But Tom declined. He said he had come into the service for a commission and intended to stay there till he got one.

Soon after this the Indians broke loose from their reservation and went about murdering settlers wherever they could find them. The savages numbered several thousand warriors, and the troops in the fort numbered sixty-two. The "great father" had put a force down near the Indians just big enough for them to eat up when they got ready.

One day there was consternation in the fort. The Indians were coming to attack it, and if they did they would doubtless take it and kill everybody in it, including women and children. Besides, many of the people from the little town or settlement near by had come in, the merchants bringing their stocks of goods and all bringing their household belongings.

As the Indians approached the soldiers went out to meet them, the major in command hoping to pacify rather than to fight them. Six hundred Indians attacked him, and after a scrimmage several redskins, including their chief, were killed. When the chief fell the Indians drew off, though it was known that they would renew the fight with redoubled fierceness. After dark the troops withdrew to the fort and shut themselves in.

That night was a fearful one in the inclosure, death staring every one in the face. It was known that reinforcements had been sent from Leavenworth, but it would require several days for them to make the march. Tom Brainard told his captain that he had a plan. He was conducted to the major commanding and proposed it. The major had no confidence in it, but permitted Tom to try it.

A stock of cigars and tobacco had been brought into the fort, including a wooden Indian that an enterprising tobaccoist had brought from St. Louis. The Indian was sitting with a calumet in his mouth. Tom bored a hole through the back of the neck and put a real pipe in the Indian's mouth. Then he introduced a tube into the hole he had bored, so that by sucking on the tube the Indian would appear to smoke.

Tom told his commander what his plan was and asked him as soon as it was light the next morning to convene all the officers at the fort on the parapet, put the wooden Indian in the circle and have some one concealed pull on the tube at the back of his head, the pipe having been lighted. He wished them all to appear to be in council.

This being understood, Tom rode out with an escort and a white flag. The Indians met him, and he told them that the spirit of their chief had come into the fort and made peace. The Indians were incredulous. They had the chief's body. Tom offered to show him to them at the fort smoking with the officers. They rode with him to the fort, arriving early in the morning. Tom would not permit them to come within a quarter of a mile of the post, but this was near enough for them to see the wooden Indian sitting on the rampart in a circle of officers blowing clouds of smoke. The Indians, astonished, rode away and spread the news to all the tribe.

That was the end of the uprising. Soon after Tom's ruse the new chief came to the fort and ratified the peace made by his predecessor.

Tom, in recognition of his services in saving the lives of the garrison, was promoted to be a commissioned officer, and a very good one he made too.

President Taft is soon to visit Atlanta, which will be a good-sized ad for that city of superlatives.

Everything in Greensboro seems to be shaping for a new era of prosperity, except the musical fraternity.

After all, the making of laws is largely a matter of courtesy and respect of personal privilege.

The May Festival has made Spartanburg famous. The Greensboro Festival still lies with the debris of the wreck of yesterday. Perhaps it is our one thing needful.

At any rate, Greensboro got out of the notion that it was all a joke.—Charlotte Chronicle.

No doubt about it. High Point finally got this town thoroughly stirred up. But to be accurate, it was the whole county, barring High Point, that had to be waked up to the fact that the Furniture City meant business.

Lorimer, the Illinois senator reputed to have obtained his seat by corrupt methods, is still sitting "pat." There is no doubt that he ought to be sent back home, but it is hard to fight against a present personality, and it will not be surprising to the country to see him remain right in Washington as a representative of his State until public discontent causes him to be displaced by a man of another type.

Arthur J. Balfour, in a speech before the English Parliament the other day, said that the reciprocity agreement between Canada and the United States was to be regarded as an imperial disaster; that Canada had offered trade preference to England, but that the British government had indicated that nothing in the way of preference might be expected in return; and that Canada was, therefore, not to be blamed for looking elsewhere for reciprocal trade agreements. England has never been credited with a disposition to do more for her colonies than force of circumstances would compel her to do. But she is without precedent assurance that neglect of proper treatment of a colony such as is Canada will not ultimately cause infinitely greater loss than that suffered by English manufacturers.

Mr. V. C. McAdoo urges in a letter which appeared in yesterday's Telegram that a meeting be called for the purpose of taking some constructive action toward building a railroad from Greensboro to Roanoke, which road would there connect with the Norfolk & Western. This seems to be a wise suggestion, as the road would traverse one of the finest farming sections in the country and would not be more than 55 miles in length. This arrangement would give Greensboro a direct line to Norfolk, and it is needless to go into details concerning what an advantage this would be. Shippers could then procure rates for shipments over leading railroads and by water, and there would be no reason for idle factories in our midst or for failure to invest in new enterprises requiring first-class shipping facilities and reasonable rates. Let us have the meeting at an early day, and let every man who has facts and who is conversant with the advantages that would accrue be present to give his views and to speak for some of the stock in the proposed company.

CHINA AND THE PLAGUE.

China is not a warlike nation and so death finds its instruments in plague and famine. Just now hundreds are dying daily in that country from the effects of a fatal plague transmitted by immigrants from Manchuria. The disease is even more deadly than the white plague, not a single victim ever having been known to recover.

From all the Christian countries noble, courageous, and unselfish men and women are hastening to the panic-stricken Orient with food, raiment, and sympathy for the suffering and the dying. Transports will soon sail from Seattle, laden with provisions, clothing, Red Cross nurses and American dollars. News comes from one Chinese port that when American missionaries were urged to take refuge at the consulate, they refused and are going daily among the stricken and the dying without an apparent thought of themselves.

Out of each caldron of suffering China emerges a little better and a little nearer toward her ultimate position among the nations whence have gone those friends that have striven and are still striving by the power of love to teach her that their interests in her are far above those of greed and pelf.

STAUNTON KNOWS THE RIGHT WAY TO GET AHEAD.

Baltimore Sun.

In these days of civic pride and enterprise it is cheering to read, as told in the news columns this morning, that Staunton, that beautiful little Virginia city, proposes to tell the world about itself. Not often does a city council, a few days after a chamber of commerce has been organized, step up and give right off $1,000 for a promotion fund.

The business organization was formed at a town meeting, and everybody has joined in. As the dispatch says, there has been more public spirit aroused than by any other one thing there. That's the right idea.

Staunton has been in the front line of progressive government for years. It has a business manager, a new office for municipalities, and he is doing remarkably good work. For instance, when there are street repairs, he goes ahead and does the work, or gets a contractor and personally bosses the job. Reports show he saves money. He is the representative of the people "on the work," and Staunton seems to like the idea.

The most gratifying thing about the council meeting was the announcement by the city treasurer that the tax rate need not be so much after this. Property owners pay $1.35 and the treasurer lopped off a dime. Those Staunton folk seem to have found out how when it comes to governing.

LETTERS OF THANKS.

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 10, 1911.

Mr. G. W. Patterson, President, Guilford Insurance & Realty Co., City.

My Dear Sir:—

I wish to thank you for the check handed me today for $39.28, for la grippe, under my Pacific Mutual policy.

The amount is correct and quite satisfactory, and I would especially commend your company for its plan to eliminate red tape in making claims, and you for your promptness and courtesy in handing me check immediately upon receipt of claim, which coupled with the liberality of your policy makes it unusually attractive, and I wish you every success.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) W. L. CLEMENT.

Mr. G. W. Patterson, President, Guilford Insurance & Realty Co., City.

Dear Sir:—

I desire to extend my most sincere thanks to you for check, $100.00, handed me today to cover my claim for appendicitis, under my Pacific Mutual policy.

In view of the fact that your claim blank is simple, that no disposition was shown to take advantage of technicalities, which could have been done in my case, that the amount is correct, that check was handed me immediately upon receipt of claim, (which I assure you was quite an accommodation to me), and the further fact that you appeared to get pleasure out of favoring me in every possible way, I think that I could not do less than express my appreciation.

With regards and best wishes, I am,
Yours very truly,
(Signed) BEN C. SHARPE, JR.

OFFICER GETS HIS NOSE MASHED

But He Held His Man and With Assistance, Brought Jim Green, Colored, To Jail—Charged With Larceny.

While Deputy Sheriffs Weatherly, Crutchfield and Andrews were returning from Greene township with Jim Suits, an account of whose capture is given elsewhere, they met Jim Green, a notorious negro, who is wanted at Revolution on the charge of larceny. Deputy Crutchfield got out of the hack and was preparing to grab the negro when he recognized the officer. Green weighs about 220 pounds and he is of muscular build. He let drive with a "Jack Johnson" cut and caught the officer on his nose, but Mr. Crutchfield grappled with the negro, the blood from his nose adding to his determination to hold on to the negro. They had a tough scuffle until the other officers came to Deputy Crutchfield's assistance when it was only a minute's work to put the nippers on Green, who is regarded as one of the stoutest negroes in the county. Green was placed in jail to await a hearing today.

Green is charged with the larceny of a watch from a woman at Revolution, the theft having been committed several days ago. It is also believed that he is the person who broke into the store of Mr. H. C. Simpson, McAdoo Heights, Revolution, Wednesday night and stole a number of articles. Green has been in a number of escapades before. He will likely be charged with assaulting an officer, also.

CORN RAISING WAS DISCUSSED

By Large Number of Farmers at Brown Summit Yesterday—Seed Corn Selected by Expert—Another Meeting At High Point Today.

Yesterday at Brown Summit a large number of the farmers of that section of the county met to discuss corn raising, especially the value of selecting the proper seed for planting. Government experts were on hand to explain how seed corn should be selected, there being various samples to be selected from. The farmers were greatly interested in the discussions regarding corn growing.

Today at High Point another meeting will be held, at which the farmers of the western section of the county will be present to learn how to select their seed corn and hear the subject of successful corn growing discussed.

INTERMEDIATES ENTERTAIN SENIORS

Annual Reception Held In Y. W. C. A. Rooms Last Evening—A Crowd of Merry Boys and Girls.

The students of Greensboro High School frequently relieve the monotony of their studies by holding enjoyable receptions and entertainments. These "social functions" are a very important factor in High School life. But usually these are given by individuals until in February or March, the annual reception of the Intermediates to the Seniors is given. This always "caps the climax;" the members of the two upper classes turn out in full force, and the greatest affair of the season is held.

At 8:30 last night the classes of 1911 and 1912 assembled in the Y. W. C. A. rooms for this occasion. A crowd of such merry boys and girls will always enjoy themselves to the fullest extent, but especially so when all the details had been so carefully planned and provided as by the hosts and hostesses last night.

As the guests arrived they were cordially received by President Tully Blair, and Misses Margaret Shaffer, Gertrude Lea, and Lucille Devlin, of the Intermediate class. The rooms were decked with lavender and white, and the entire color scheme was skillfully worked out in these emblems of the Seniors. During the evening an interesting game of hearts was played, Miss Ruth Lindau winning a prize, a beautiful book. Soon the refreshments followed, ice cream with a lavender heart in the center and lavender iced cake. Miss Laura Clark then served delicious punch in abundance, while lavender and white mints were freely distributed. Beautiful hand-painted souvenir hearts, each containing a prophecy, were also given.

For a short time music and singing entertained the young people. Mr. Henry Foust, president of the Seniors, then, in a short talk, expressed the appreciation of his class for their delightful entertainment. President Blair responded that the enjoyment of the affair was mutual as he and his classmates appreciated the pleasure of their guests. Soon after the young people departed from the most enjoyable reception of many a day.

ATE THIRTY SIX RAW EGGS IN FOUR MINUTES

Rhode Island Man Cleans Out a Store Supply and Then Complains About Being Hungry.

Providence Bulletin. Albert H. Thurston, a physical culture expert, was rash enough to remark in the presence of Hiram Sabins down in Charlie Terry's grocery store in Assonet Thursday night that two eggs a day were a plenty for man's system to digest and assimilate. In less than five minutes Albert was eating crow, and Hiram was on the outside of three dozen eggs.

The boys in Charlie's store were having a real heart-to-heart talk over the food properties of the egg in its natural, not cold storage or canned state, when the physical culture man cut in with his opinion. Immediately Hiram looked at him sort of scornful and said that anyone who couldn't get away with more than a couple of eggs at a sitting ought to fall back on breakfast food or have his digestive apparatus renovated.

"Shucks," he added. "I could eat a dozen at one meal. Yes, I could eat 'em now, even if I did get up from the supper table 'bout an hour ago."

"Hi," spoke up George Hapgood instantly, "if you'll take a shy at a dozen I'll pay for 'em, she'll me 'Gene Foss." "I'm on," said Hiram. And Charlie Terry handed over one dozen of his choice native, hand-picked eggs. They disappeared in 1 minute and 20 seconds, actual time.

As Hiram smacked his lips and gazed smilingly at the group about him, Fred Grinnel, who had been watching the eating with his hand on his box of dyspepsia tablets, jumped into the ring with an offer to pay for a second dozen if Hiram would tackle them.

"Will I?" quote Hi, with a smile that made the top of his head look like an island. "Lead 'em to me, Fred."

It took Mr. Sabins 90 seconds to put the finishing touches on this dozen, and one second to wipe his mouth for more.

"Try another half dozen" asked the storekeeper, who is a true sport.

"Sure," replied Hiram. "Hand 'em over, Charlie."

They went the way of the rest of the hen fruit with a rapidity that made the onlookers gasp. By this time Mr. Hapgood, who had already spent 30 cents on the first dozen, thought he had a fine chance to win part of his money back by volunteering to furnish six more eggs provided Hiram would devour them every one.

He was mistaken. No sooner did he speak the word than Hiram called for the eggs and cleaned them up without batting an eye. Then, as he looked about for more, Charlie Terry threw up his hands and told him he had eaten every egg in the store.

"Gee," said Hi, sighing, "it's funny how you fellows'll try to starve a man when he's hungry."

The actual time of eating was four minutes and 10 seconds. The intervals between the consignments were only as long as it took Charlie Terry to pass the eggs over the counter.

New Electric Lights.

The Public Service Company is hard at work planting the poles for the new street lamps. The new lamps have been placed where the old lamps were stationed, but it was necessary to plant poles and run wires for the additional twenty arcs and 150 tungstens. As soon as the extra lamps are placed the new contract will become effective and the lamps will burn every night in the year. It is hoped to have the entire number installed by March 1.

Making the King's Bed.

Among the duties of the yeomen of the guard in the olden times was the singular one of making the king's bed every night and searching it for any dangerous weapon that might be concealed therein to the detriment of his majesty's sacred person. First one of these stalwart soldiers had "to tumble up and down" the mattress. Then "the esquire for the body" took the sheets and rolled them on his arm or "stripped" them through his hands. Whenever the yeomen touched the bedclothes they had to make the sign of the cross and kiss the place, which must have rather prolonged the ceremony. Finally, when the bed had been made, with much quaint but interminable "ritual," the said esquire sprinkled it with holy water, and then the martial bedmakers retired to a supper provided for them "without the traverse"—i. e., across the corridor.

Henry VIII. greatly embellished the yeomen's costume and presented them with cloth of gold horse cloths valued at £5 a yard. His first queen, Katherine of Aragon, by the way, had a bodyguard all to herself, which, after her divorce, passed into the service of Anne Bolyn—Richard Davey's "The Tower of London."

GENUINE ECZEMA CURE.

New Remedy That Cures Eczema Quickly.

Howard Gardner has sold hundreds of jars of Hokara in the last few weeks, and although he offered to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied purchaser, not one jar has been returned.

While this is surprising in itself, yet the most marvelous thing to him is the reports of chronic cases of eczema that have been cured by this simple skin food. People who have suffered with scales, scabs and even bleeding itching have found relief and cure in Hokara.

You can buy a liberal sized jar for 25c and with every package goes Howard Gardner's guarantee to refund the money if it is not satisfactory. Larger size, 50c.

TESTIMONIAL.

I wish to state for the benefit of anyone suffering from eczema, that I had eczema on my hand for some time and could find nothing that would cure it until I used Hokara. One 25c jar entirely cured me. Wm. Nichols, 621 1-2 Central Ave., Ft. Dodge, Iowa.

A PRIME FACTOR IN BUSINESS

Business men find a banking account absolutely necessary to the proper transaction of their business accounts.

Besides affording the greatest convenience, and assuring the dispatch in the transfers of moneys, accounts paid by checks insures the payer against any possible loss or wrong payment, and when canceled, is the best receipt to be had. But in addition to the necessity of a bank account, there are many ways in which association with a strong bank can further the interests of any business.

An Anecdote of Bach.

The Duke of Saxe-Weimar once invited John Sebastian Bach, the Nestor of German music, to attend a dinner at the palace. Before the guests sat down to the feast Bach was asked to give an improvisation. The composer seated himself at the harpsichord and straightway forgot all about dinner and everything else. He played so long that at last the duke touched his shoulder and said, "We are very much obliged, master, but we must not let the soup get cold."

Bach sprang to his feet and followed the duke to the dining room without uttering a word. But he was scarcely seated when he sprang up, rushed back to the instrument like one demented, struck a few chords and returned to the dining room, evidently feeling much better. "I beg your pardon, your highness," he said, "but you interrupted me in a series of chords and arpeggios on the dominant seventh, and I could not feel at ease until they were resolved into the tonic. It is as if you had snatched a glass of water from the lips of a man dying of thirst. Now I have drunk the glass out and am content."

His Turn Came.

Ben Davis defeated President Madison for election to the Virginia house of delegates after Madison had left the White House. Old Davis, who seldom wore a coat, was sitting on a rail fence on the roadside in Greene county one morning when a young man dressed in dapper fashion and evidently from the city passed by.

"Good morning," said David, with the proverbial Virginia politeness.

To this the stranger paid no attention. In a few minutes, however, he came to a fork in the roads and was evidently in doubt which way he should go. He retraced his steps to where Davis still sat on the fence and asked him with great politeness if he could tell him which way led to Standardsville. Davis made no reply.

"Will you please tell me," the young man repeated, "which road I take to get to Standardsville?"

"You can," said Davis stolidly, "take any d—d road you please."—Popular Magazine.

A Lawyer's Paradise.

Naples, under Spanish rule in the eighteenth century, was overrun by lawyers. Of their profusion Joseph Addison had this to say:

"It is incredible how great a multitude of retainers to the law there are at Naples. It is commonly said that when Innocent XI. had desired the Marquis of Campio to furnish him with 30,000 head of swine the marquis answered him that for his swine he could not spare them, but if his holiness had occasion for 30,000 lawyers he had them at his service."

It seems to have been a golden age for lawyers, for, as the author says, "there are very few persons of consideration who have not a cause depending, for when a Neapolitan has nothing else to do he generally shuts himself up in his closet and falls a tumbling over his papers to see if he can start a lawsuit and plague his neighbors."—Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette.

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Fariss-Klut Drug Co.

The American Despot.

"Does your wife want to go to the polls and vote?"

"No, sir," replied Mr. Meekton. "If Henrietta casts a vote it'll be important enough to have the polls brought around to the house when she sends for 'em."—Washington Star.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

Look For the Hose With This Mark on the Toes

There are many kinds of guaranteed hosiery but they are all imitations of the original "Holeproof."

When your husband goes out to buy socks, tell him to insist on "Holeproof"—tell him to look on the toes for our trademark.

This means more than you think—it means that if any holes appear within six months we give you new hosiery free.

But that is not all, the hosiery itself is more stylish and comfortable than any other on the market.

FAMOUS
Holeproof Hosiery
FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The makers use only the finest and softest cotton from Egypt and the Sea Islands. They pay 63 cents a pound, but could buy ordinary cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The yarn is three-ply in the body and doubled to six-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Common hosiery is made of two-ply yarn throughout yet it costs you as much as "Holeproof."

Comfort is supreme in "Holeproof"—the fabric is as soft and smooth as silk. Style is increased for the hosiery is shaped to fit the ankle like a glove fits the hand.

Men's hose come in eleven attractive colors and women's in six. Price $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Children's hose, in black and tan, at $2 a box of six pairs. Please come in and see this hosiery to-day—it costs no more than the ordinary.

SOUTHERN'S

New and Greatly Improved Service

BETWEEN

Greensboro and Raleigh

The Southern Railway announces that effective Sunday, January 22, new passenger train service will be inaugurated between Greensboro and Raleigh, one additional train to be operated in each direction. New train No. 108 will leave Greensboro daily at 7:30 a. m. arrive Raleigh 10:40 a. m. New train No. 131 will leave Raleigh daily at 6:50 p. m. arrive Greensboro 10:00 p. m. Both trains to make all local intermediate stops.

These new trains will carry baggage car, two coaches and one Pullman Drawing-room Sleeping car, the sleeping car to be operated between Raleigh and Washington, being handled between Washington and Greensboro on trains No. 31 and 32. First sleeping car will leave Washington on No. 31 Jan. 21 arriving Raleigh on new train No. 108 Sunday, Jan. 22nd and first car to leave Raleigh on No. 131 Sunday, Jan. 22nd arriving Washington on No. 32 Monday morning, Jan. 23rd. Effective same date Jan. 22nd train No. 111 will leave Raleigh 2:30 a. m. arrive Greensboro 6:30 a. m.

This gives four daily trains between Greensboro and Raleigh in each direction and in order to afford the traveling public every possible comfort there is either a Pullman car or Southern Railway Chair car on each of these four trains in both directions. It is believed that the inauguration of this through Pullman car between Raleigh and Washington will also be of considerable interest to the people of Greensboro and vicinity, as passengers for Washington can board this car at Greensboro at 10 o'clock at night arriving Washington early next morning. For any further information concerning this greatly improved service see Southern's nearest Agent, or address,

Poe's Short Stories.

There are in the best of Poe's brief tales a constructive skill, a command of design and a gift of decoration rare in any literature and almost unknown in English, which is ever unduly negligent of form. And no one need wonder that Poe's short stories wandered swiftly out of our languages into French and Italian and Spanish, into German and Scandinavian and Bohemian, into strange tongues where no other American author, except Fenimore Cooper, had ever before penetrated. His weird psychologic studies have influenced later writers as unlike as Maupassant and Richepin, Fitz-James, O'Brien, Robert Louis Stevenson and Rudyard Kipling. His tales of a mystery solved at last by observation and deduction have been imitated by Dumas and Sardou, by Gaboriau and Boileau, by Wilkie Collins and Conan Doyle. And Sherlock Holmes, the only fictitious character to win international recognition in the final years of the nineteenth century, is the reincarnation of a figure first projected by Poe.—Brander Matthews in Century.

Making a Cake With the Bible.

The following unique recipe for Scripture cake is copied from an old English cookbook. For the ingredients and directions for making the cake you must refer to the Bible, in the chapters and verses given herewith. It may be added that by carefully following the directions you will be able to make a most delicious cake—the very best thing for a Sunday afternoon tea.

Four and a half cups of I Kings iv, 22; half pound Judges v, 25; two cups Jeremiah vi, 20; two cups Nahum iii, 12; two cups I Samuel xxx, 12; two cups Numbers xvii, 8; two teaspoonfuls I Samuel xiv, 25; to taste, II Chronicles ix, 9; six Jeremiah xvii, 11; one and a half cups Judges iv, 19; two teaspoonfuls Amos iv, 5; one pinch Leviticus ii, 13; directions, Proverbs xxiii, 14; bake one and a half to two hours. Baking powder may be used instead of yeast or leaven, as it is termed in the Bible.

PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS

PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

RICHARD HUDSON IN GEORGIA CAMPAIGN

By Richard Hudson.

"Oh ye Hoke and Joe! I lit in Georgia during this great political campaign. Could hear the roaring of the ticks, for politics are just like ticks, when they get on you they get all over you and get thick. The following words chased in my mind like a streak of lightning:

HOKE. It was the name of hoke, As some thought it would be a joke. But now they have come to see As to what he is going to be. And he had on a very fine trace, Which snowed Joe under in the race. JOE. It was the name of Joe Brown, In Georgia cities and towns, Said they, "he's a fine little bean, And I will vote for little Joe." But now they are walking around the town, With their faces covered with frowns.

Buried Landscapes.

One of the most curious results of geological exploration is the discovery of "buried landscapes," by which is meant parts of the former face of the earth now covered under later deposits, but yet retaining so many of their original features that the geologist can ideally reconstruct the scenes that would have been presented to the eye of man if he had been present among them. Sometimes buried landscapes exist in countries now densely inhabited. Investigation has shown that one lies beneath the region in England known as Charnwood forest. The rocky projections seen there are the peaks and aretes of a buried mountain chain belonging to the old red sandstone period. Several different phases in the history of this landscape have been traced. At one time it contained salt lakes and desert expanses. In its modern form it is a pastoral region, with barren, stony tracts and rocky eminences where the ancient mountains project through the soil.—Detroit Free Press.

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c. Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

An Open Letter.

Kernersville, N. C., Jan. 4, 1911, Vick's Family Remedies Co., Greensboro, N. C. Gentlemen:—I have used your Croup and Pneumonia Salve for spasmodic asthma and find it superior to anything I have ever tried. I cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering with this disease. Yours truly, Geo. W. Wilson.

Teddy.

Teddy was a rover bold, An orator erratic, And everywhere that Teddy went They voted Democratic. —From Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used I-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you succeed. 520 Laura avenue."

Keep it Dark.

Wife (whose husband—the local mayor—has just been knighted)—Have you heard from the man who offered to trace our pedigree? Husband—Yes; he has found out more than enough. Wife—What did you pay him? Husband—Fifty pounds to hold his tongue!—London Opinion.

Edition

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Molière and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstoi, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Oppen. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 8x7 1/2 inches.

Brown, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. J. C. Brown, of New Bern; Mrs. R. M. Albright, of Raleigh. The day promises to be one of unusual pleasure for this well known family.

Hard to Understand.

Supposing some one should spring this on you rapidly and ask you what it meant: "Mare-zeat-toats-deer-zeat-toats-lam-sleat-ty-llt-tie-kid-slea-tiv-too."

You would never think it was plain English, but it is. It is simply: "Mares eat oats; deers eat oats; lambs 'll eat ivy; little kids 'll eat ivy too."

You should say this over many times to yourself until you can roll it off very quickly, run the words together, and then when you try it on your friends they will have to confess that they can't understand it. They will feel quite foolish when you show them that it is common English and that it sounds odd only because the words are spoken fast and run in together. It is this running of the words in together which makes it hard for a foreigner to understand our language or us theirs. —Omaha World-Herald.

England's Greatest Mine Fire.

The most serious colliery fire ever known in Britain was undoubtedly that which broke out at the Tawd valley mine, near Preston, in 1872. Thousands of pounds were spent in trying to get the flames under control, but they overcame everything and consumed some millions of tons of coal. A wall ten feet in thickness was built round the affected parts, but the heat cracked the masonry and brought it down as fast as it was rebuilt. However, in 1897 the river Tawd overflowed its banks and went pouring down into the mine. No fire could withstand such an immense volume of water hurled upon it, and, although the flames extended for 500 yards, they were quenched after having raged for a quarter of a century. —London Tit-Bits.

Preaching Monkeys.

The author of "The History of Brazil" tells of a species of monkey called "preachers." Every morning and evening these monkeys assemble in the woods. One takes a higher position than the rest and makes a signal with his fore paw. At this signal the others sit around him and listen. When they are all seated he begins to utter a series of sounds. When he stops these cries he makes another signal with his paw, and the others cry out until he makes a third signal, upon which they become silent again. This author, Mr. Maregrove, asserts that he was a witness to these preachings.

A Use For Him.

"That horse of yours looks terribly run down."
"Yes," replied Uncle Si Simlin.
"Why do you keep him?"
"Well, it's a kind of comfort to have him around. As long as I've got him I feel that there ain't much danger of my bein' cheated in a horse trade." —Washington Star.

Not a Good Son.

Necessity turned sharply to invention.
"If I'm your mother," she said, "it's your duty to support me in comfort."
But invention, as we all know, usually dodges his duty. —Chicago Tribune.

Gallant.

Nell—I have to read a paper on "Ideal Woman" at the next meeting of our ladies' club. Jack—Well, all you need to do is to stand up and let them look at you.
